Good Day!

WELCOME TO OSUToday, the latest news and information for faculty and staff of The Ohio State University for Wednesday, Oct. 6. The deadline for submissions is noon the prior business day.

OSUToday sponsored by the Wexner Center for the Arts

Learn about the infamous night in June 1969 when a police raid on a Greenwich Village bar turned into the breakthrough moment for the gay rights movement when you see the documentaries Stonewall Uprising and Last

Address on Thursday and Friday at 7 p.m. Stay after the Thursday screening for a panel discussion with Ira Sachs, director of Last Address, as well as Ohio State faculty members Doug Whaley and Lyn Hegarty. Read more: <http://www.wexarts.org/fv/index.php?eventid=4965>

Spotlight on ... University Place

Through an initiative called University Place, WOSU Public Media is developing and delivering university-related programs via web and television broadcast with emphasis in the fields of science, technology, engineering and math. WOSU is collaborating with university partners on capturing major lectures and discussion sessions including Michael Caligiuri's State of Cancer lecture, and the James F. Patterson Land-Grant University lecture with Battelle's Jeff Wadsworth, among others. WOSU has also created science-focused learning modules for integration into middle and high school curriculum as part of the project.

University Place airs at various times throughout the month on WOSU Ohio. View the broadcast schedule. Read more >

Spotlight on ... will run every Wednesday to promote the highlights, achievements and unique points of pride of each of the university's departments, centers, units, programs, labs, etc. Send items to <mailto:gammage.2@osu.edu> to be considered for publication. Limit text to 125 words and include contact information and a web link.
